

Table of content

| | |
|--|-----|
| Petrus.C. van Duyne | |
| Introduction: the multiple meaning of the Janus face in crime | 1 |
| Gwen Herkes | |
| The Janus-faced victimisation in human smuggling and human trafficking | 19 |
| Giacomo Orsini and Anna Sergi | |
| The emergency business. Migrants reception, mafia interests and glocal governance: from Lampedusa to Rome. | 49 |
| Miroslav Scheinost | |
| Illegal migration, crime and the public response in the Czech Republic | 73 |
| Parisa Diba, Georgios A. Antonopoulos and Georgios Papanicolaou | |
| The role of the Internet in the process of trafficking humans in the UK | 97 |
| Miroslav Nozina | |
| The role of Vietnamese criminal networks in drug crime. The Czech Republic case | 125 |
| Trang Nguyen and Klaus von Lampe | |
| On the persistence of an open illegal market: Explaining the continued existence of street-vending of contraband cigarettes in Berlin since 1990 | 149 |
| Anna Markovska and Alexey Serdyuk | |
| The normalisation of arms trafficking in times of conflict: the Ukrainian experience | 171 |

| | |
|--|-----|
| Matjaž Jager | |
| Panama papers, Paradise documents and the Slovene state in the global competitiveness race | 197 |
| Petrus C. van Duyne, Jackie H. Harvey and Liliya Y. Gelemerova | |
| The crusade for purity: Corruption and laundering | 219 |
| Michele Riccardi and Riccardo Milani | |
| Opacity of business ownership and the risk of money laundering | 251 |
| Tomáš Strémy, Natália Hangáčová and Martin Kotovský | |
| VAT fraud committed in the Slovak Republic in context of the European Union | 285 |
| Anna Maria Maugeri | |
| Italian strategies against the infiltration of the criminal organisation in the economy | 307 |