

TABLE OF CONTENTS

Preface	xi
Part I Objects of Property Rights
1 How Do Tokens Fit In? Analysis of Switzerland’s Legislative Approach with a Focus on Property Law Aspects	3
Alexandra Dal Molin-Kränzlin
1 Introduction	3
2 To Regulate or not to Regulate?	5
2.1 International Developments	5
2.2 Switzerland’s Approach	6
3 Jungle of Terms – an Attempt to Shed some Light	8
4 Legal Qualification de lege lata	10
4.1 General Framework of the Swiss Civil Legal System	10
4.2 Are Utility Tokens and Asset Tokens Legal Objects?	11
4.2.1 Movable Physical Objects	11
4.2.2 Negotiable Securities	12
4.2.3 Uncertificated Securities	15
4.2.4 Intermediated Securities	16
4.3 Interim Conclusion	16
5 Proposed Amendments de lege ferenda	17
5.1 The Federal Council’s Pre-draft	17
5.1.1 General Remarks	17
5.1.2 Uncertificated Securities with Security Character in particular	18
5.2 Results of the Consultation Process	21
5.3 The Federal Council’s Draft	23
5.3.1 General Remarks	23
5.3.2 Ledger-based Securities	23
5.4 Analysis and Synthesis	26
6 Concluding Remarks	27

TABLE OF CONTENTS

2	Virtual Things, Virtual Possessio, and Possessory Protection Thereof	29
	Aleksa Radonjić
1	Introduction	29
2	Virtual Things	30
3	Possessio and Virtual Things	37
4	Conclusion	41
3	Property Over Incorporeal Goods: The Cornerstone of the Chilean Neoliberal Constitution	43
	Viviana Ponce de León Solís
1	Introduction	43
2	Historical Background – Creating a New Playing Field	44
3	Incorporeal Goods and Incorporeal Things – Dialogues between the Constitution and the Civil Code	46
4	Vulgarisation of Property and Propertisation of Rights – Expanding and Reinforcing the Scope of the Property Clause	48
5	Conceptual Severance and the Regulatory Takings Doctrine – The Omnipresent Realm of Expropriations	51
6	Privatisation (without Expropriation) of Common Goods – The Case of Mine and Water Rights	56
7	Conclusions	61
Part II Property and Justice
4	The Vexed Question of Customary Law ‘Ownership’ of Sacred Waters – A Real Or Imagined Dispute Post Constitutionalism?	65
	Mpho Bapela and Lesetja Monyamane
1	Introduction	65
2	The Common Law Notion of Ownership	67
	2.1 Scope of Ownership	67
	2.2 Content of Ownership	68
	2.3 Limitation on Ownership	69
3	African Law Rights and Obligations in Land	70
	3.1 Locating African Law in the South African Legal Milieu	70
	3.2 Property Law Rights and Obligations in Land	72
4	Sacred Waters	76
	4.1 Definition and Content	76

4.2	Ownership of Sacred Waters	77
4.2.1	The National Water Act	78
4.2.2	Water Services Act	79
5	Towards Existentialism	80
6	Conclusion	84
5	Property Restrictions in the Public Interest in Light of the Equality of Citizens Before Public Burdens	87
	Samuel De Winter
1	Introduction	87
2	Property Restrictions in the Public Interest as a Rule not Compensable...	88
2.1	... Unless Compensation is Provided by Statutory Law	88
2.2	... Unless Compensation is Required to Restore Equality Amongst Citizens Before Public Burdens	89
2.2.1	The Equality of Citizens Before Public Burdens is on the Rise...	89
2.2.2	... But Also Comes as a Surprise in Belgium	90
2.2.3	Equality of Citizens Before Public Burdens: a General Principle of French and Belgian Law	91
2.2.4	A Principle with Constitutional Value	92
2.2.5	A Principle Applicable Independently of Statutory Law	92
2.2.6	A Principle to be Applied by Judges, Taking All Circumstances of the Case Into Account...	94
2.2.7	... With Particular Attention to Citizens' Expectations Regarding Societal Solidarity...	95
2.2.8	... to be Considered Using Standards of Reasonableness and Fairness...	96
2.2.9	... and Perhaps not only to be Considered by Judges but also by Public Authorities Themselves	97
2.2.10	Inequality Before Public Burdens Requires The Plaintiff to be Compared to Similar Others	98
2.2.11	Inequality Before Public Burdens: Less 'Faultless' than it May Seem	99
3	Conclusion	100

6	Innovations in Land Registration and Their Impact on Cross-Border Conveyancing in Europe	103
	Maria Kaczorowska
1	Introduction	103
2	An Overview of Land Registration Models	105
	2.1 Criteria of Differentiation	105
	2.2 Typologies of Land Registers	109
3	Informatisation of Land Registers	111
	3.1 General Tendencies	111
	3.1.1 Land Registers as Electronic Databases	112
	3.1.2 Integration of Land Registry Data and Cadastral Data	112
	3.1.3 Access to Electronic Land Registers	113
	3.1.4 Implementation of New Technologies in Land Registration Proceedings	114
	3.1.5 Development of E-Conveyancing	115
	3.1.6 The Use of Blockchain Technology in Land Registration	115
	3.2 Effects	117
4	Towards Harmonisation of Land Registers?	118
	4.1 European Union Legal Framework	119
	4.2 Practical Difficulties in Cross-Border Conveyancing	121
	4.3 Integration and Cooperation Initiatives	121
	4.3.1 European Land Information Service	122
	4.3.2 European Land Registry Association and its Projects	123
5	Prospects and Challenges	125
6	Conclusion	128

Part III Property and Land

7	Good Old Feudal Times – A Toolbox for the (Re)Introduction of Land Burdens	133
	Siel Demeyere
1	Introduction	133
2	The Concept of Land Burdens	136
3	Arguments Against and in Favour of More Land Burdens	137

3.1	Land Burdens and the Numerus Clausus Principle	138
3.2	Arguments Against More Land Burdens	139
3.3	Arguments in Favour of More Land Burdens	143
4	The Toolbox	145
4.1	Duration	145
4.2	Content	148
4.3	Creditor of the Burden	151
4.4	Publicity	151
4.5	Monetary Incentives	152
5	Conclusion	153
8	'Accidental' Environmental Property Law in Belgium, France and Germany – The Prohibition of Excessive Nuisances (Neighbourhood Disturbances) as Protection for the Environment	155
	Johan Van de Voorde
1	Introduction	155
2	The Historical Role of Nuisance Law as Environmental Law	159
3	Conditions for Nuisance Liability	159
4	Nuisance Liability as (Partially) Effective Weapon Against Pollution	160
4.1	Theoretical Analysis	160
4.2	Analysis of Case Law	161
4.3	General Criteria	164
5	Limits on the Effectiveness of Nuisance liability	165
5.1	Nuisance Liability is Meant to Legitimise Some Nuisances	165
5.2	Reductions of the Excessive Character	168
5.3	Effects of Environmental Regulations on Private Nuisance Law	169
5.4	Other Limits	171
6	Remedies – The Law and Economics of Nuisance Law as Protector of the Environment	172
6.1	Kinds of Remedies	172
6.2	A Law and Economics Analysis of Financial Compensation for Nuisance	173
7	Conclusion	175