

TABLE OF CONTENTS

Chapter 1	Introduction	1
1.1	Campaign Finance: The Topic and Its History	1
1.1.1	The Topic: A Definition	1
1.1.2	The History	2
1.2	Fundamental Rationales of Campaign Finance Regulation	10
1.2.1	Scope of the Present Project	11
1.2.2	Research Questions	12
1.3	Choice of Jurisdictions and Research Techniques	14
1.4	Academic and Social Relevance	16
Chapter 2	The Constitutional Framework of Campaign Finance Regulation: Fundamental Principles	21
2.1	Identifying the Rationales: A Primer	21
2.1.1	Political Corruption	22
2.1.1.1	A Proper Definition	22
2.1.1.2	Syndromes of Corruption	23
2.1.2	Equality	25
2.1.3	Freedom of Speech	26
2.1.4	Legitimacy and Public Trust	28
2.1.5	Transparency	30
2.1.6	Inclusion	31
2.3	Typology	33
2.3.1	Functional Placement	33
2.3.2	Types of Campaign Finance and Its Regulation	33
2.4	GRECO: A Most Useful Tool	36
Chapter 3	Campaign Finance Regulation in the U.S.	39
3.1	Historical Background, Main Characteristics and Constitutional Aspects	39
3.1.1	The Roots of Campaign Finance Regulation in the U.S.	39
3.1.2	The Origins of the Current Legal Framework: The Federal Election Campaign Act	41
3.2	The Role of the U.S. Supreme Court: Shaping Campaign Finance Regulation	42
3.2.1	The Foundations	43
3.2.2	Evolution	46
3.2.3	The Challenge of Soft Money	50
3.2.4	The Fundamental Shift	53

TABLE OF CONTENTS

3.2.5.	Major Constitutional Issues in the Supreme Court’s Jurisprudence	56
3.3	The U.S. Federal Campaign Finance System: Current Legislation and Typology	59
3.3.1	Public Campaign Finance	60
3.3.2	Private Campaign Finance	61
3.3.3	Assessment	64
3.4	Supervision and Enforcement: The Federal Election Commission	64
3.4.1	Structure	65
3.4.2	Powers	66
3.4.3	Assessment	68
3.4.3.1	Strengths	68
3.4.3.2	Inefficiencies	68
3.5	Corruption Issues and GRECO’s Evaluation	72
3.5.1	Campaign Contributions and Influence	72
3.5.2	Incumbents and Challengers	73
3.5.3	Legitimacy of the Political System	74
3.5.4	GRECO’s evaluation on Party Funding Transparency	75
Chapter 4	Campaign Finance Regulation in the U.K.	79
4.1	Historical Background, Main Characteristics and Constitutional Aspects	79
4.2	The Transformation of the U.K. Campaign Finance Regulation Regime	80
4.2.1	The PPERA	80
4.2.2	Free Airtime and Other Means of Public Financing to the Political Parties	84
4.2.3	Freedom of Expression and the PPERA: Bowman v. The United Kingdom	85
4.2.3.1	The Background	85
4.2.3.2	The Proceedings before the European Court of Human Rights	87
4.2.3.3	The Assessment by the Committee on Standards in Public Life	89
4.2.4	A Judge’s Insight into the Differences with U.S. Campaign Finance Values	90
4.3	The U.K. Campaign Finance System: Current Legislation and Typology	91
4.3.1	Public Campaign Finance	92
4.3.2	Private Campaign Finance	93
4.3.3	Assessment	97
4.4	Supervision and Enforcement: The U.K. Electoral Commission	97
4.4.1	Structure	98

4.4.2	Powers	99
4.4.3	Assessment	101
4.4.3.1	Strengths	101
4.4.3.2	Inefficiencies	103
4.5	GRECO's Evaluation	106
4.5.1	GRECO's Approach to the Framework	106
4.5.2	GRECO Recommendations	107
Chapter 5	Campaign Finance Regulation in Greece	111
5.1	Historical Background, Main Characteristics and Constitutional Aspects	111
5.2	Campaign Finance Regulation as a Tool in Defending Democratic Values	115
5.2.1	Legal Basis	115
5.2.2	Proceedings before the Council of State	116
5.3	Legitimate Public Funding, Disclosure of Contributions and the Right to Privacy in Greece	117
5.3.1	The Hellenic Data Protection Authority	119
5.3.2	Legal Basis	119
5.3.2	The Case	120
5.3.4	The Decision	122
5.4	The Greek Campaign Finance System: Current Legislation in Detail and Typology	124
5.4.1	Public Campaign Finance	124
5.4.2	Private Campaign Finance	125
5.4.3	Assessment	128
5.5	Supervision and Enforcement: The Greek Control Committee	128
5.5.1	Structure	128
5.5.2	Powers	129
5.5.3.	Assessment	131
5.5.3.1.	Strengths	131
5.5.3.2	Inefficiencies	132
5.6	GRECO's Evaluation	134
5.6.1	GRECO's Approach to the Framework	134
5.6.2	Recommendations	136
Chapter 6	Comparative Assessment	143
6.1	Comparative Analysis Background	143
6.2	Major Campaign Finance Norms	143
6.2.1	Permissible Donors	144
6.2.2	Independent Expenditures and Contributions	145

TABLE OF CONTENTS

6.3	Public and Private Campaign Finance	148
6.3.1	Realities Drive Regulation	149
6.3.2	Public Campaign Finance	149
6.3.3	Private Campaign Finance	150
6.4	Tackling Political Corruption	152
6.4.1	The Link of Political Corruption to Campaign Finance Violations	152
6.4.2	Contribution Limits	153
6.4.3	Expenditure Limits	153
6.4.4	Unlawful Contributions	154
6.4.4.1	Unlawful Private Funding	154
6.4.4.2	Unlawful Public Funding	154
6.4.4.3	Quid Pro Quo Contributions	155
6.5	Regulatory Mechanisms	156
6.5.1	Independence	156
6.5.2	Flexible Decision-Making Procedures	158
6.5.3	Transparency, Legitimacy and Public Trust	159
6.5.4	Investigatory and Coercive Powers	159
6.6	GRECO's Perception	161
Chapter 7	Towards Campaign Finance Reform	169
7.1	Introduction	169
7.2	Campaign Finance Constitutional Principles in Review	170
7.2.1	Towards Conclusions of Universal Constitutional Value	170
7.2.2	Political Corruption	171
7.2.3	Equality	172
7.2.4	Freedom of Speech	174
7.2.5	Legitimacy	176
7.2.6	Transparency	177
7.2.7	Inclusion	179
7.2.8	Striking a Balance: The Role of the Judiciary	180
7.3	Campaign Finance Regulation: A Roadmap for Future Regulation	182
7.3.1	Public Campaign Finance: Helping or Underlining the System?	182
7.3.2	The Role of Control Mechanisms	184
7.3.2.1	Legal Foundation	184
7.3.2.2	Independence	185
7.3.2.3	Commitment	185
7.3.2.4	Transparency	186
7.3.3	Lessons to be Learnt	187
7.3.4	Regulatory System Orientation and Typology	187

TABLE OF CONTENTS

7.3.5	GRECO: The Need for More Systematic Review	189
7.3.5.1	Towards a New Universal System	190
7.3.6	A Constant Need for Improvement	191
	List of Cases	195