

TABLE OF CONTENTS

Acknowledgements	xix
Remerciements	xxi
Part I Introductory Synthesis and Analyses 1ère Partie Synthèse et Analyses Introductives
A legal perspective on the worldwide situation of defendants and detainees with mental illness	3
Maartje Krabbe
1 Introduction to this volume	3
1.1 Definitions	4
1.2 Outline of this volume	5
1.2.1 Thematic chapters	5
1.2.2 National chapters	8
1.2.3 Present chapter	8
2 Defendants and detainees with mental illness: the numbers	8
3 Defendants and detainees with mental illness: the causes	11
3.1 Systemic causes	12
3.1.1 How the system deals with mental illness	12
3.1.2 How defendants and detainees deal with the system	15
3.2 Reasons for systemic causes	17
4 Defendants and detainees with mental illness: the problems	19
4.1 Defendant is not able to deal with criminal proceedings	19
4.2 Lack of treatment	20
4.3 Unsuitable environment	21
4.4 Aftercare problems	22
5 Human rights implications	23
5.1 Legal framework	23
5.2 Procedural rights of defendants and detainees with mental illness	25
5.3 The right to mental healthcare	26
5.3.1 General rules on the right to mental healthcare	27
5.3.2 Rules on mental healthcare in prison	27
5.3.3 Rules relevant to specific groups of prisoners	29

TABLE OF CONTENTS

5.4	Human rights implications of the effect of the general situation in prisons on detainees with mental illness	30
5.5	Human rights implications of aftercare problems	32
5.6	Conclusion	32
6	Recommendations	33
7	Conclusion	42

Une perspective juridique sur la situation mondiale des prévenus et des détenus atteints de maladie mentale 45

Maartje Krabbe

1	Introduction à ce volume	45
1.1	Définitions	46
1.2	Aperçu du présent volume	47
1.2.1	Les chapitres thématiques	47
1.2.2	Chapitres nationaux	50
1.2.3	Présent chapitre	51
2	Les prévenus et les détenus atteints de maladie mentale : les chiffres	51
3	Les prévenus et les détenus atteints de maladie mentale : les causes	54
3.1	Causes systémiques	54
3.1.1	Comment le système traite la maladie mentale	54
3.1.2	Comment les prévenus et les détenus traitent avec le système	58
3.2	Les raisons des causes systémiques	60
4	Les prévenus et les détenus atteints de maladie mentale : les problèmes	62
4.1	Le défendeur n'est pas en mesure de faire face à la procédure pénale	63
4.2	L'absence de traitement	63
4.3	Environnement inadapté	65
4.4	Problèmes de suivi	66
5	Les implications en matière de droits de l'homme	67
5.1	Cadre juridique	67
5.2	Droits procéduraux des accusés et des détenus atteints de maladie mentale	69
5.3	Le droit aux soins de santé mentale	71
5.3.1	Règles générales sur le droit aux soins de santé mentale	71

5.3.2	Règles relatives aux soins de santé mentale en prison	72
5.3.3	Règles applicables à des groupes spécifiques de détenus	74
5.4	Implications pour les droits de l'homme de l'incidence de la situation générale dans les prisons sur les détenus atteints de maladie mentale	75
5.5	Implications des problèmes de postcure sur les droits de l'homme	77
5.6	Conclusion	78
6	Recommandations	79
7	Conclusion	89

Part II Themes 2ème Partie Thèmes

The effects of the criminal process and deprivation of liberty on mental health 95

Olivera Vulić Kralj

1	Introduction	95
2	Effects of deprivation of liberty	96
3	Challenges prior to imprisonment	97
4	The presence of prisoners with mental and behavioural disorders	98
5	Prisons: theory versus reality	100
6	The jurisprudence of the ECtHR	105
6.1	De Donder and De Clippel v. Belgium	106
6.2	Keenan v. the UK	107
7	Conclusion	107

Mentally disordered in prison? Prevalence, development of symptoms and recidivism 109

Oscar Bloem, Robbert-Jan Verkes & Erik Bulten

1	Introduction	109
2	Prevalence	109
2.1	Psychotic disorders	111
2.2	Depressive disorders	115
2.3	Anxiety disorders	115
2.4	Substance-related disorders	116
2.5	Attention Deficit Hyperactivity Disorders (ADHD)	117
2.6	(Antisocial) Personality disorders	117

TABLE OF CONTENTS

2.7	Intellectual dysfunction	118
2.8	Autism Spectrum Disorders (ASD)	118
3	Development of symptoms	119
3.1	Symptom changes in the overall prison population	119
3.2	Symptom change in specific mental disorders	120
3.3	Symptom changes in relation to other prison or personal circumstances	121
4	Recidivism	122
4.1	Mental disorders and recidivism	123
4.2	Other factors that may be related to recidivism	124
5	Conclusion	124
6	Closing remark	125
On the treatment of prisoners with psychiatric disturbances: a matter of health or justice?		133
Taro Morinaga & Mana Yamamoto
1	Introduction	133
2	Causes	133
3	Criminal justice versus medical care	135
4	A way towards fair and adequate treatment of offenders with psychiatric disturbances	137
5	Conclusion	139
Defendants with psychiatric disturbances or otherwise limited mental abilities – Fair procedure during pre-trial inquiry and at trial		141
Piet Hein van Kempen
1	Introduction	141
2	Scope of the problem: various statistics	143
3	General bases: adversarial procedure, equality of arms, equality – relevance of systems’ adversariality or inquisitoriality?	146
4	The specific fair procedure rights for defendants with psychiatric disturbances or otherwise limited mental abilities	150
4.1	Guarantees for effective participation by defendants during trial	151
4.2	Safeguards for fairness during police questioning of defendants with limited abilities	157
4.3	No right to terminate the trial and no impediment to fair proceedings by suspension	158

4.4	Preliminary conclusion: task for legislature and legal practice	159
5	The need for protection of the legal position of insufficiently capable defendants	161
5.1	Conclusions on defendants who are unfit to stand trial	161
5.2	Conclusions on defendants with limited capacity for effective participation during trial	162
5.3	Conclusions on defendants with limited capacity during police questioning and preliminary inquiry	163
6	Final remarks	165
Healthcare and human rights requirements as regards detainees with psychiatric disturbances		167
Małgorzata Wąsek-Wiaderek
1	Introduction	167
2	The right to obtain adequate healthcare in prison/detention centre	168
3	The right to liberty of persons of unsound mind – an absolute ban on deprivation of liberty based partly on mental disorder?	175
4	Conclusions	183
Prisoners with psychiatric disturbances in detention and in prison		185
Celso Manata
1	Introduction	185
2	Dilemmas in relation to two different groups of prisoners	185
3	Recent developments	188
Les unités hospitalières spécialement aménagées, un dispositif spécifique de prise en charge des personnes détenues atteintes de troubles mentaux		191
Catherine Pautrat
1	Une forte présence de personnes atteintes de troubles mentaux en prison justifiant une politique de prise en charge adaptée	191
1.1	La prévalence des troubles mentaux en prison	191
1.2	Les principes d’une prise en charge spécifique	192
2	Les UHSA : un dispositif innovant de prise en charge des détenus atteints de troubles mentaux nécessitant une hospitalisation	193
2.1	Un dispositif novateur répondant à des besoins spécifiques	193
2.2	Deux cas d’admission sont prévus	194
2.3	Un dispositif pertinent et efficace	195

TABLE OF CONTENTS

3	Conclusion	196
Part III National Reports 3ème Partie Rapports Nationaux
Defendants and prison inmates with mental disabilities in the criminal justice system in Brazil		199
Edmundo Oliveira & Silvio Gemaque
1	Introduction	199
2	Defendants with mental disabilities during the investigation stage and the trial stage: the fair process	200
3	Prisoners with mental disabilities during provisional arrest: needs, problems, possible solutions	201
4	Prison inmates with mental disabilities: needs, problems, possible solutions	203
5	Treatment of prison inmates with mental disabilities: a matter of health or justice responsibility?	206
6	Reintegration of prisoners with mental disabilities to the community: needs, problems, solutions	208
7	Conclusion	210
The criminal justice system, mental health and human rights – The situation of defendants and detainees in Chile		211
Francisca Figueroa San Martín & Francisco Molina Jerez
1	Introduction	211
2	Defendants with psychiatric disturbances during pre-trial inquiry and at trial: fair procedure	212
3	Detainees with psychiatric disturbances during provisional detention: needs, problems, screening tools	216
4	Prisoners with psychiatric disturbances in prison: needs, problems, screening tools	217
5	Treatment of prisoners with psychiatric disturbances: health or justice responsibility?	223
6	Community reintegration of prisoners with psychiatric disturbances: needs, problems, solutions	224
7	Conclusions	225
Defendants and detainees with psychiatric disturbances in Germany		227
Rita Haverkamp & Thomas Galli
1	Introduction	227

2	Defendants with psychiatric disturbances during pre-trial inquiry and at trial: fair procedure	228
3	Detainees and prisoners with psychiatric disturbances during provisional detention: needs, problems, screening tools	232
3.1	Introduction	232
3.2	Context	233
3.3	Needs	233
3.4	Problems	234
3.5	Screening tools	235
3.6	Conclusion	236
4	Treatment of prisoners with psychiatric disturbances: health or justice responsibility?	236
5	Community reintegration of prisoners with psychiatric disturbances: needs, problems, solutions	241
6	Conclusion	248
Defendants and detainees with psychiatric disturbances in the criminal process and in the prison system in Greece		251
Calliope Spinellis & Athanassios Douzenis
1	Introductory remarks	251
1.1	The law in the books of the year 1950	252
1.2	The 1950 law in action	253
1.3	The new law: main points	256
2	Defendants with psychiatric disturbances during pre-trial inquiry and at trial: fair procedure	257
3	Detainees with psychiatric disturbances in provisional detention: needs, problems, screening tools	260
4	Prisoners with psychiatric disturbances in prison: needs, problems, screening tools	261
5	Treatment of prisoners with psychiatric disturbances: health or justice responsibility?	265
6	Community reintegration of prisoners with psychiatric disturbances: needs, problems, solutions	266
7	Conclusion	268
Defendants and detainees with psychiatric disturbances in the criminal process and in the prison system in Hungary		271
Katalin Ligeti
1	Introduction	271

TABLE OF CONTENTS

2	Defendants with psychiatric disturbances during pre-trial inquiry and at trial: fair procedure	273
2.1	Providing information for defendants with psychiatric disturbances	274
2.2	Acquiring evidence on the mental state	276
3	Detainees with psychiatric disturbances in provisional detention: needs, problems, screening tools	278
3.1	Providing information for defendants with psychiatric disturbances	278
3.2	Assessing and meeting the needs in 'standard' places of detention	279
3.3	Temporary involuntary treatment – assessing and meeting the needs in the IMEI	282
4	Prisoners with psychiatric disturbances in prison: needs, problems, screening tools	283
4.1	Proportion of prisoners with psychiatric disturbances	283
4.2	Psychiatric disturbances in prison	284
4.2.1	Screening and detecting psychiatric disturbances	284
4.2.2	Special units and mental healthcare for persons with psychiatric disturbances in prisons	286
4.3	Treatment and involuntary treatment at the IMEI	289
5	Treatment of prisoners with psychiatric disturbances: health or justice responsibility?	294
6	Community reintegration of prisoners with psychiatric disturbances: needs, problems, solutions	295
6.1	General remarks	295
6.2	Reintegration in the curative-therapeutic and psychosocial unit	298
6.3	Reintegration at the IMEI	298
7	Conclusion	299

Defendants and detainees with psychiatric disturbances in the criminal process and in the prison system in Ireland 303

Mary Davoren & Mary Rogan

1	Introduction	303
2	Therapeutic security and the provision of mental health beds appropriate for the needs of mentally disordered offenders	304
3	Defendants with psychiatric disturbances during pre-trial inquiry and at trial: fair procedures	305

4	Detainees with psychiatric disturbances during provisional detention: needs, problems, screening tools	310
4.1	The 'special verdict' or not guilty by reason of insanity	313
5	Prisoners with psychiatric disturbances in prison: needs, problems, screening tools	315
6	Special populations within the prison setting	317
7	Treatment of prisoners with psychiatric disturbances: health or justice responsibility?	319
8	Community reintegration of prisoners with psychiatric disturbances: needs, problems, solutions	320
9	Conclusion	321
 Defendants and detainees with psychiatric disturbances in the criminal process and in the prison system – The Japanese situation		323
Taro Morinaga & Mana Yamamoto
1	Introduction	323
2	Defendants with psychiatric disturbances during pre-trial inquiry and at trial: fair procedure	325
2.1	Investigation and prosecution stage	325
2.2	Adjudication stage	328
3	Detainees with psychiatric disturbances during provisional detention: needs, problems, screening tools	329
4	Prisoners with psychiatric disturbances in prison: needs, problems, screening tools	330
5	Treatment of prisoners with psychiatric disturbances: health or justice responsibility?	333
6	Community reintegration of prisoners with psychiatric disturbances: needs, problems, solutions	335
7	Conclusion	337
 Prisoners and detainees with mental health disorders in the criminal process and in the prison system in Kazakhstan		339
Azamat Shambilov
1	Introduction	339
2	Prisoners with mental disorders during a pre-trial investigation and in court: fair trial	341
3	Detainees with mental disorders during pre-trial detention: needs, problems, instruments of care	346

TABLE OF CONTENTS

4	Convicts with mental disorders in prison: needs, problems, instruments of care	348
5	Treatment of convicts with mental disorders: responsibility for causing harm to health or perverting the course of justice?	352
6	Reintegration of convicts with mental disorders in society: needs, problems, solutions	356
7	Conclusions	357
Defendants and detainees with psychiatric disturbances in the criminal process and in the prison system in the Netherlands		359
Michiel van der Wolf & Paul Mevis
1	Introduction	359
2	Defendants with psychiatric disturbances during pre-trial inquiry and at trial: fair procedure	360
2.1	Suspension of prosecution due to unfitness	360
2.2	Additional safeguards (related to counsel) to ensure a fair procedure	364
2.3	Recent and future developments	367
3	Detainees with psychiatric disturbances in provisional detention, in prison and in community reintegration: needs, problems, screening tools	371
3.1	Introduction: the Dutch penitentiary system related to forensic care	371
3.2	Developments in forensic care: why it became a Justice responsibility and related challenges	373
3.3	Diversion to the mental health system: non-forensic care	377
3.4	(Forensic) Care for detainees in provisional detention	378
3.5	(Forensic) Care for detainees in prison	380
3.6	(Forensic) Care for detainees reintegrating into the community	382
3.7	Screening	384
4	Conclusion	385
Defendants and detainees with psychiatric disturbances in the criminal process in New Zealand		387
Yvette Tinsley & Warren Young
1	Introduction	387
2	Detainees with psychiatric disturbances in provisional detention	388
2.1	Non-offenders experiencing a mental health crisis	388

2.2	Mentally impaired offenders	391
2.3	Detention for detoxification	391
3	Defendants with psychiatric disturbances and intellectual disabilities during pre-trial inquiry and at trial	392
3.1	Rights and protections when questioned	392
3.2	Fitness to stand trial	394
3.3	Insanity defence	398
4	Responsibility for mentally impaired offenders	399
4.1	The prevalence of mental disorder amongst prisoners	401
4.2	Assessment and treatment of mental impairment	402
5	Prisoners with psychiatric disturbances in prison: needs, problems, screening tools	402
6	Community reintegration of prisoners with psychiatric disturbances: needs, problems, solutions	406
6.1	Recent reintegration initiatives specifically for offenders with mental health and addiction needs	407
6.2	The call for ‘therapeutic’ mental health courts	408
7	Conclusion	409

Defendants and detainees with psychiatric disturbances in the criminal process and in the prison system of Poland 411

Małgorzata Wąsek-Wiaderek & Paulina Duda

1	Introduction	411
2	Defendants with psychiatric disturbances during pre-trial inquiry and at trial: fair procedure	412
2.1	Pre-trial stage of the proceedings	412
2.2	Trial stage of the proceedings	415
3	Detainees with psychiatric disturbances in provisional detention: needs, problems, screening tools	418
4	Prisoners with psychiatric disturbances in prison: needs, problems, screening tools	421
5	Treatment of prisoners with psychiatric disturbances: health or justice responsibility?	426
6	Community reintegration of prisoners with psychiatric disturbances: needs, problems, solutions	428
7	Conclusion	433

Defendants and detainees with psychiatric disturbances in the criminal process and in the prison system in Portugal	435
Anabela Miranda Rodrigues & Sónia Fidalgo
1 Introduction	435
2 Defendants with psychiatric disturbances during pre-trial inquiry and at trial: fair procedure	436
3 Detainees with psychiatric disturbances in provisional detention: needs, problems, screening tools	440
4 Prisoners with psychiatric disturbances in prison: needs, problems, screening tools	442
5 Treatment of prisoners with psychiatric disturbances: health or justice responsibility?	444
6 Community reintegration of prisoners with psychiatric disturbances: needs, problems, solutions	445
7 Conclusion	447
Defendants and detainees with psychiatric disorders in the Spanish criminal justice system	449
Ana Cerezo
1 Introduction	449
2 Detainees with psychiatric disorders during custody and pre-trial detention	451
3 Prisoners with psychiatric disorders in prison	452
3.1 Psychiatric penitentiary hospitals	452
3.2 The high level of mental disorders among the Spanish prison population	455
4 Treatment of prisoners with psychiatric disorders	457
5 Community reintegration of prisoners with psychiatric disorders	459
6 Conclusions	460
6.1 Changes to the restrictive measure of confinement in a psychiatric prison according to the basis for the measure	460
6.2 Disappearance of psychiatric penitentiary hospitals	462
Defendants and detainees with psychiatric disturbances in the criminal process and in the prison system in the United States of America	465
Emilio C. Viano
1 Introduction	465
2 Defendants with psychiatric disturbances during pre-trial inquiry and at trial: fair procedure	469

2.1	Pre-trial	469
2.1.1	Miranda rights – failed protection?	470
2.2	Trial	473
2.2.1	Competency – Is the defendant able to stand trial?	473
2.2.2	Guarantees and aid to demonstrate incompetency to stand trial	473
2.2.3	If the accused is considered to be mentally incompetent to stand trial – what next?	474
2.2.4	Special procedures	474
3	Detainees with psychiatric disturbances during provisional detention: needs, problems, screening tools	477
3.1	Problems in dealing with detainees who suffer from psychiatric disturbances and are held in provisional detention	477
3.2	Mentally ill detainees and their special needs	480
3.3	Screening tools to detect whether the person suffers from psychiatric disturbances	482
3.4	Special measures that must be taken for a detainee who suffers from psychiatric disturbances	483
4	Prisoners with psychiatric disturbances in prison: needs, problems, screening tools	484
4.1	Problems related to dealing with prisoners who suffer from psychiatric disturbances	484
4.2	Mentally ill prisoners and their special needs	486
4.3	Screening tools to detect whether the person suffers from psychiatric disturbances	487
4.3.1	Different tools for juveniles	487
4.4	Special measures that must be taken for a detainee who suffers from psychiatric disturbances	488
4.5	The prison system and mental treatment of prisoners	489
4.5.1	Preparation for release and support after release	491
4.5.2	Imprisonment as a cause of mental health issues	491
5	Community reintegration of prisoners with psychiatric disturbances: needs, problems, solutions	492
5.1	In what way and to what extent the United States is challenged by such a phenomenon	492
5.2	Treatment of prisoners – health or justice responsibility?	494
5.3	International protection – Aspiration values	496